Contributions Come in for Master Plan

Contributions to defray a part of Mokena's share in the cost of a master land use plan for the Mokena-Frankfort area are being accepted by Lawrence Kohl, a farm member of the Mokena plan commission.

Mr. Kohl announced that as of yesterday more than $400 had been donated.

The Sunny Acres Home-owners Association contributed $100; the Lincoln-Way high school board and the Mokena grade school board each gave $100 and more than $100 has come in from individuals, Mr. Kohl said.

The high school board will contribute a like amount to the Frankfort and it is understood that the grade school board there will make a similar payment.

The cost of the plan is $4,400 which is to be divided between the two municipalities. The village boards will make up the difference which is expected to amount to about $1,600 or $1,700 from each board.

Notice of the action taken by the villages has been sent to county zoning authorities. By adopting a master plan and filing some with the county recorder the Frankfort and Mokena plan commissions will have jurisdiction over territory within a mile and a half radius of their respective villages.

This is the first time in Illinois, it is said, that two villages have gone together in working out an area plan. Sponsors say that such a plan will give needed protection to all property owners.

Band Boosters Sponsor African Safari Movie

An Oak Lawn pharmacist will show color movies of a hunting expedition in Africa at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, in the Frankfort school gym.

Emil J. Ratajick will narrate his 95 minute "African Safari" in the benefit showing sponsored by the Frankfort Band Boosters organization. The proceeds will be used to purchase necessary uniforms for the school's growing band.

Ratajick mounted 27 trophy heads, taken in the expedition, in his pharmacy at 5269 W. 95th st., Oak Lawn, where they have become an attraction of widespread community interest.

His largest quarry in the hunt was a 6 1/2 ton elephant with tusks 8 feet long. Other trophies included lions, rhinoceros, and buffalo.

The movie depicts Ratajick and his hunting companion stalking game in Tanganyika and Kenya. The film also portrays tribal dances of Masai warriors and the safari's visit to a village near Nairobi following a night of terror in a Mau Mau uprising of Kikuyu natives.

Ratajick said he has raised more than $33,000 since 1954 showing the film to religious and civic organizations in benefit performances for worthy charitable causes.

He is planning an expedition to India in early 1959 to hunt tiger and black panther south of New Delhi. He previously hunted big game thru-out the United States and Canada.

Break-ins at Orland Park and New Lenox Gross Thieves $900

Burglars, who apparently were quite familiar with the places entered were at work at New Lenox and Orland Park last week-end. About $1,000 in cash and goods was carried off.

Thieves broke into Lincoln-Way high school at New Lenox Saturday night or Sunday morning and after rifling teachers' desks in all the rooms cut thru the steel door of a storage vault in the office of Supt. A. Hunter Chapman.

The loot at the school amounted to a little more than $100 in cash, but damage to the vault is expected to exceed $1,000.

The burglary at Orland Park took place sometime after 11 o'clock Sunday night. The burglars broke thru a door into the Cooper Electric store, then used a key on a door in the partition dividing the store from the grill operated by Police Magistrate Albert "Kirk" Wheeler, to enter that establishment.

Goods and cash taken from both places are valued at approximately $800.

Wheeler's grill was hardest hit. There the thieves got $153 in cash, a 12-gauge automatic Browning shotgun valued by Wheeler at $144; 45 boxes of shotgun shells valued at $145 and 46 cartons of cigarettes valued at more than $100.

In the Cooper store the burglars took $10 in cash, two electric shavers, a Schick and a Remington-Rand and two Polaroid cameras for a total value of some $200.

Wheeler has offered a $50 reward for information that will lead to apprehension and conviction of the thieves.

This is the second time in three months that Kirk's grill has been burglarized.

The shotgun stolen was kept in a concealed place that Wheeler believed was secret so investigators are of the opinion the burglars were quite familiar with the place.

They not only unlocked the door to go from Cooper's to the grill but they went back thru the store and locked the door behind them.

It was believed that the thieves who broke into Lincoln-Way high school also had a thorough acquaintance with the place. Ordinarily some of the custodians would have been working all Saturday night but didn't because there were no classes Monday because of teachers' insitute.

The torch used in cutting the vault door was obtained in the agriculture shop, as were the tanks of gas to feed it. Numerous small tools were taken from the shop.

The thieves did not destroy anything other than the vault door and frame, but removed the drawers from teachers' desks in their search for money. There are always minor funds maintained in schools and at Lincoln-Way the money in all of them was a little over $100. Only a few dollars were in the vault. It is simply a fire resistant storage space used for school records and some office supplies.

SET FOR HALLOWEEN—This particular pumpkin, which was prepared and is on display at the Carpenter st. school, Mokena, weighed in at 55 pounds. A pumpkin like this can be dropped or it can roll off a table or stand but no one is going to throw it as the Headless Horseman did in his pursuit of Ichabod Crane. Digging out the interior of such a pumpkin can be quite a job so it was decided to paint a face rather than carve one. The feathers gave it an Indian effect. The young misses here are Christine Pettersen (left) and Carol Ebert, are not only pleased with the pumpkin but they also get pleasure from thots about the coming school party at which the pumpkin will be a part of the decorations. Halloween Parade --

Offer Prizes for Best Costumes

Following a custom that now dates back for quite a number of years, the youngsters of Mokena will celebrate Halloween with a parade and a party. Mothers are working overtime getting costumes ready for the affair.

Sponsored by the William Martin post, VFW, with the assistance of the Mokena Chamber of Commerce and the Ladies Auxillary of the Five Star Amvet post of Mokena, the affair will be held tomorrow nite beginning at 7 o'clock.

All pre-grade and grade school children are invited to take part.

The youngsters are to assemble at the Carpenter street school grounds at 6:45 o'clock to form the parade that is scheduled to move off at 7:00. The parade will move to the VFW hall on Wolf road where a panel of judges will be waiting to select the winners.

The youngsters will be judged on their costumes and the best shown in the various age groups will be declared winners. Cash prizes will be donated by the Amvet Auxillary.

After the winners have been picked and the prizes awarded the youngsters will fall on the food and other treats that are a big part of the affair. The refreshments will be provided by the VFW post and Chamber of Commerce.

The community Halloween celebration idea is spreading thruout the country and parents and police find it solves many problems. The kids are provided with means to expend some of their surplus energy without becoming destructive and running the risk of injury.

Safety authorities, however, take a dim view of masks if worn while going about streets—except, of course, in a supervised parade. They suggest that trick or treat details make use of theatrical make-up so vision is not obscured. Some masks have such small eye holes or fit so badly that the eyeholes are next to useless, it was pointed out, and the wearers can't get a good view of terrain or traffic.

Beemsterboer Loses --

No Rezoning, Says Orland Board

The Orland Park village board has turned thumbs down on the move to reclassify the property of George J. Beemsterboer, Inc. for light industry in the event that it should become annexed to the municipality.

The village zoning board of appeals had recommended approval of the petition and that the Orland Park zoning ordinance be amended to give the property a new classification.

A delegation from the Orland Township Improvement Association, which had filed objections with the board of appeals, was on hand at the village board meeting Monday night to renew them.

The village board members recessed for a brief huddle and then on a motion by Trustee Lloyd Cowan to amend the zoning ordinance in conformance with the Beemsterboer plea—in order to get the matter before the council — and seconded by Trustee Bretland A. Blair, the board voted "No." The vote was unanimous. Blair, Cleveland, Cowan, Lebens and Voss all voting against the proposed amendment.

The Beemsterboer company is removing humus and peat from the property and wanted it zoned in order that it could continue the operation if the property were annexed to the village.

The property in question is located at 159th and 105th ave. Beemsterboer wanted only a portion zoned for light industry and told the zoning board that he would backfill all but a third of the portion when the operation was finished. The remaining third would be made into a lake. Trustee Melvin H. Doogan was absent.

Village board members took a dim view of the lake idea. Some weeks ago the question of annexing the property was discussed informally at the village board and at that time the sentiment appeared to be against "bringing a hole into the village."

The Beemsterboer petition is just another chapter in a controversy that began some months ago when Herman Gee, whose property adjoins that of the Beemsterboer company, was successful in getting a portion of it zoned for light industry in the event it should become annexed to the village of Orland Park at some future date.

The Orland Township Improvement Association members fought that action on the grounds that bringing industry there would affect the value of their residential holdings. It was pointed out that the objectors, most of whom live on 108th ave., were anywhere from a half mile to a mile or more from the Gee property. Gee's holdings, however, are not contiguous to the village boundaries. The Beemsterboer property is contiguous, or at least a portion of it is, and if it should be annexed then the way would be clear for similar action by Gee. So in fighting Beemsterboer the improvement group is carrying on its war against Gee.

It was pointed out that no one in the immediate vicinity of the Beemsterboer holdings objected to its reclassification.

C. of C. at Hearing --

Bus Firm Asks Permanent Permit

The Chamber of Commerce will represent Orland Park at a hearing before the Illinois Commerce Commission Nov. 10 on the petition of the Suburban Transit System, Inc. for a permanent permit to operate buses between Orland Park and the Chicago loop.

Village Attorney Raymond Pieper will also attend the hearing but the village board will not adopt a resolution as requested by the transit company. The transit firm wanted the village to agree that in the event the bus company found the service unprofitable it could discontinue it without objections by the village.

Mayor W. R. Schussler Jr., pointed out that the board could not bind future boards to any course of action and it is understood that other municipalities are taking the same attitude.

The Orland board asked the Orland Park Chamber of Commerce to have some members at the hearing as representatives of the community.

At previous hearings the transit firm had asked for a temporary permit. Now it is asking that the permit be permanent. The amended petition of the bus company also provides for elimination of the original proposal to pick up passengers between 79th st. and Cicero ave. in the city of Chicago, and points east. This change, it was believed, would eliminate the major objections presented by other transportation companies at previous hearings.

Roy Benson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that anyone interested in attending the hearing Nov. 10 is invited to call him and he will arrange transportation.

AERIAL VIEW of sewage treatment plant that is to serve Mokena. There is still a lot of work to be done before it will be ready for use.

Work on the sewer mains is progressing satisfactorily, it was reported to the village board. (Marvin Smith photo)

HOMER CHURCH celebrates 125th anniversary but the church shown here is almost new. Altho the church was formed Aug. 12, 1833 celebration of the 125th anniversary was delayed until last Sunday, Oct. 26, when a deed to the school property to the west of the church was given by County Supt. VISITING COLLEGIANS
Lincoln-Way will be visited on October 30 by thirty physical education majors from Illinois State Normal university. They will observe both the girls' and boys' physical education programs.

Acting as hosts will be A. Hunter Chapman and Miss Barbara Sprayberry who have planned the program to include observation of L-W's P.E. facilities, extra-curricular activities, and outdoor education program.

The trip is sponsored by the special methods class and will include visitation of other high schools and elementary schools in the area.

CHEERLEADERS CLINIC
Seven Lincoln-Way cheerleaders, Marilyn Sayers, Diane McCleary, Jane Berlin, Gayle Harling, Cheryl Crabtree, Ginny McCullough, and Judy Bailey attended the recent cheerleading clinic held at ISNU. The varsity cheerleaders, Marilyn Sayers, Diane McCleary, and Jane Berlin were asked to perform for the group.

The clinic is a one-day program for all cheerleaders in the state to show them the latest cheerleading techniques. Summer cheerleading schools are held also; dates for the 1959 session are June 14-19 and June 21-26.

PARENT CONFERENCE NIGHTS
The Lincoln-Way faculty was well pleased with the interest shown by the freshmen parents during the two evenings devoted to parent conferences last Tuesday and Wednesday, October 21 and 22. This has all the promise of becoming an annual event.

Approximately one hundred and ten families were present during these two evenings to visit with teachers about the progress of their sons and daughters in school during the first seven weeks. Many of these parents visited Lincoln-Way last spring after the Step-Up Day program for preliminary conferences with the administration and counseling staff for interpretation of test scores.

The "Abe" Lincoln Chapter of the Future Teachers of America served as the hosts and hostesses for the two evenings and personally ushered the parents to the various teachers. Conferences in some cases were short, but it did provide information about classroom work and conduct.

This kind of parent interest in education certainly helps in producing even better results from the ninth grade students. It also makes the job of teaching easier.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

The Future Homemakers of America held their regular business meeting Tuesday, Oct. 21 with Norma Heidrich presiding. Pins were given to three people whom the members felt had helped the chapter and were interested in F.H.A. Mrs. Hochberg, Section 20 F.H.A. mother, is L-W's honorary mother; Mrs. Marcy Van Cleave, office secretary, is the chapter's honorary sponsor; and Ella Juul Jensen, foreign exchange student, is now an honorary F.H.A. member.

The cokeret party, which will again be held in the gym Nov. 10, was discussed and "Brown Derby Dip" was chosen as the theme for the occasion.

Cook books will be passed out to the members to be sold in the near future.

NEW JUKE BOX

The Lincoln-Way Student council has arranged for a new juke box, a center of much student interest, will be used during lunch periods and other occasions when student council members are present. The old records have been auctioned off to L-W students and will arrive with the machine.

P.T.A. Sets Membership Month

They'll Knock On Igloo Doors In Newest State

When more than eleven million P.T.A. members open their annual Membership Enrollment month this October, they will be urged to "knock on every door" to find new members interested in advancing the welfare of children.

Some of those doors may open to the oldest dwellings in the Western hemisphere—stone igloo homes in Alaska, scheduled soon to become the nation's 49th state.

Here, as throughout the U.S., the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will seek to add some half-million new "parents, teachers or friends of children" to what is already the nation's largest voluntary service organization.

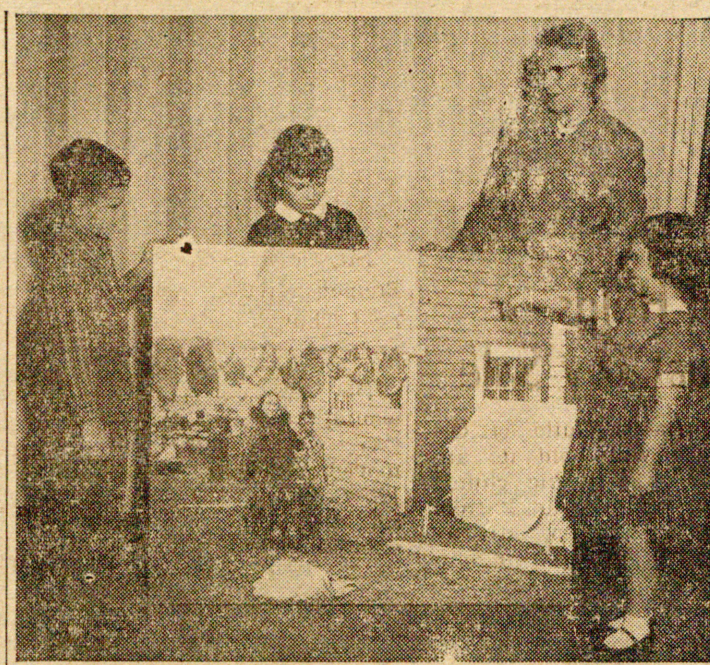

Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, cites "the dynamic potential of Alaska, our newest state," as "comparable to the spirit which has enabled Parent-Teacher associations to contribute so much to the welfare of children."

The variety and scope of P.T.A. activities in the 61-year history of the National Congress are reflected today, Mrs. Parker noted, in the everyday life of Alaskans which ranges in spirit from the quite sophisticated to the "truly frontier."

Alaska's Congress of Parents and Teachers, which became part of the national organization in 1957, today faces problems which can be compared, Mrs. Parker pointed out, with those recorded over the years in tiny American communities or in its largest cities. For it is a land where...

School youngsters may ride for miles in a dog sled to a crowded, poorly-heated quonset hut, or walk across the street to a modern, several story building.

—Where accountants, school

"Home is the child's first school," explains Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whether it's in Point Barrow, Alaska, or the continental U.S. Here, Chicago school children examine picture of Eskimo family standing under strips of caribou meat outside their far north home. In proclaiming October as P.T.A. Membership Enrollment month, Mrs. Parker points out that development of P.T.A.'s in Alaska, soon to become the nation's 49th state, parallels the organization's pioneering days in this country.

teachers and government workers regularly make trips "back in the bush" to hunt and fish for food for their families—and store it in modern freezers.

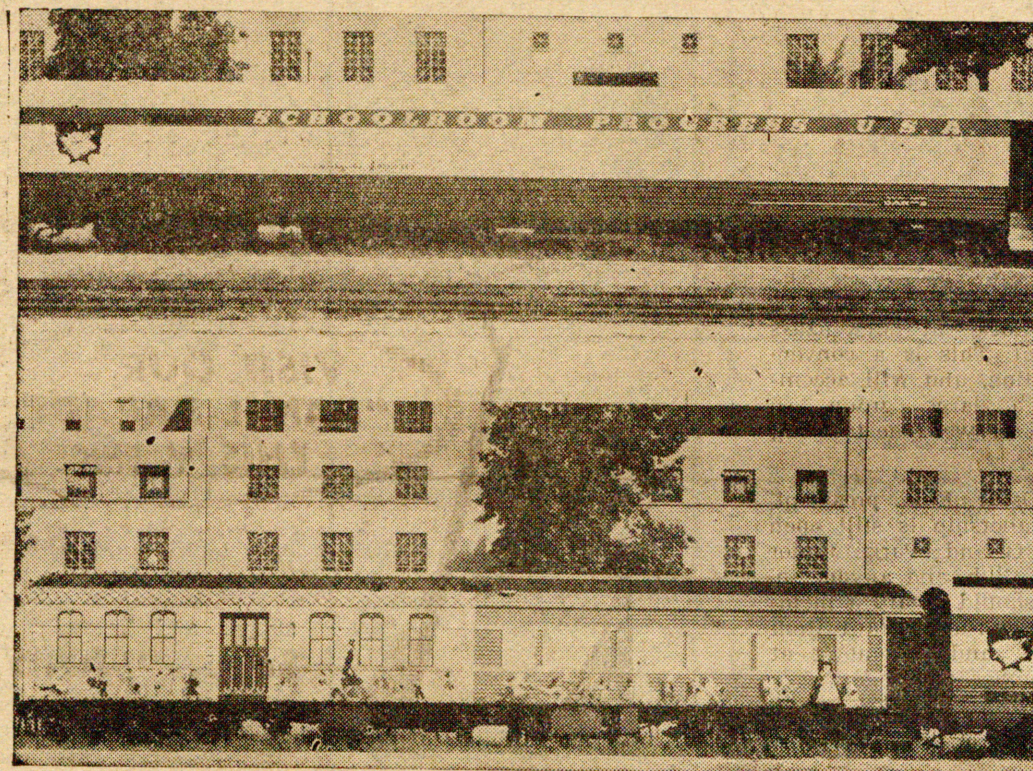

—Where the airplane is the accepted means of travel between cities, but where the number of sled dogs is increasing.

—Where teachers in schools with large Eskimo or Indian populations must teach a second language—English—to many of their charges, while other schools, especially those on U.S. army bases, maintain typically American libraries, theaters and bowling alleys as part of their recreation program.

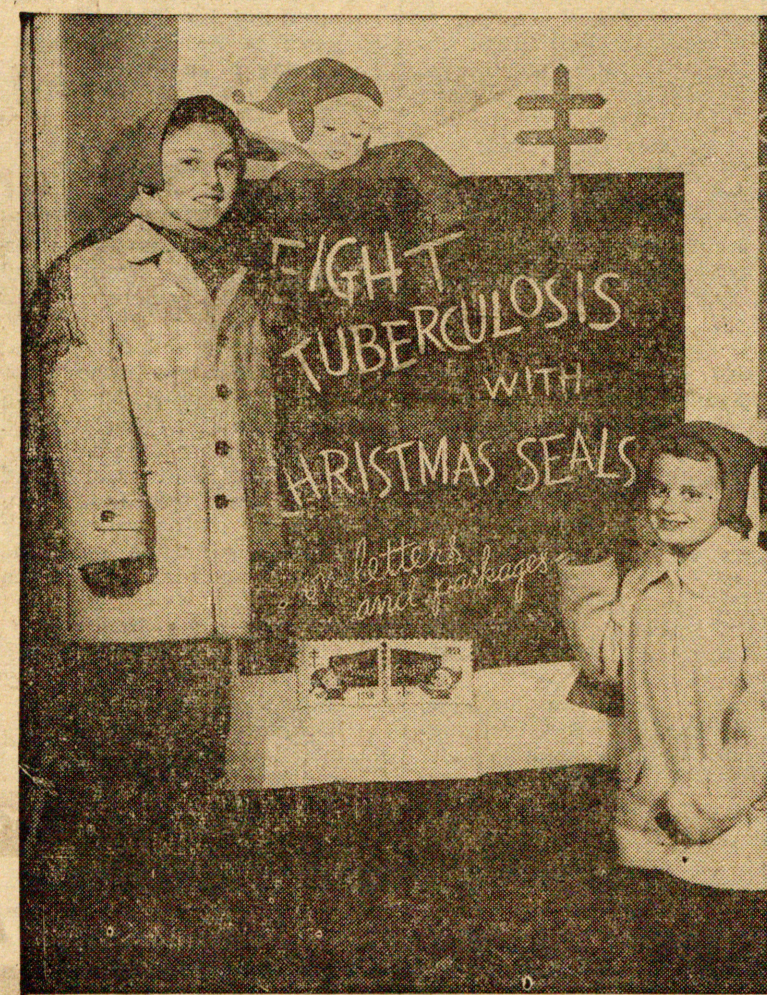

Aims of the National Congress membership month will apply equally well in this dynamic new state, Mrs. Parker pointed out, as in its member organizations throughout the continental United States, in Hawaii and on American military bases in Europe.

"For the primary purpose of the P.T.A.," she explained, "is to safeguard children, to build for the future in such a way that in every community the lights of home may always shine out."

In designating October as the period for membership enrollment, she called upon "every parent-teacher member to knock once more on the door, and at the heart, of every American, so that all of us, working together, may make America the best possible home for all our children."

SCHOOLS—Housed in two railroad cars, Schoolroom Progress U.S.A. will be at the La-Salle Street Station, Chicago, from Nov. 5 thru Nov. 17. The unique school on wheels graphically depicts more than a century of advancement in educational facilities. The 13-day appearance will be sponsored by the Commonwealth Edison—Public Service Company system.

CHRISTMAS SEAL KIDS—Two Chicagoland youngsters, Danny Thomas 10, and Mary Nasby 11, are this year's Christmas Seal Kids, chosen to be "real life" counterparts to the children pictured on the brightly-colored Seals which will decorate Christmas cards and packages. The children will make appearances on radio and television thruout the Christmas Seal campaign, Nov. 14 thru Christmas Day, to aid the sale of Seals to fight tuberculosis.

"Trick or Treat" Candy Sales Aid Brain Research Foundation

"Trick or Treat" candies will again be sold to benefit the Brain Research Foundation," said Mrs. Donald Craemer at the meeting of the Orland Park Junior Woman's club held the evening of Oct. 13 at McKenzie's Restaurant in Orland Park. Mrs. Craemer announced sales were going nicely, and that she had attended the October meeting of the Palos Heights Woman's club at the Church of the Good Shepherd, at the invitation of Mrs. Hurlburt, to sell candy. She will also bring candy to the meeting of the Palos Park Woman's club on Oct. 23, at the request of Mrs. Jay Lamb, president; also to the Orland Park Woman's club meeting in October, upon invitation of their president, Mrs. Mabel Eckberg. Mrs. Orville Schmaedeke will assist in sales of candy to the Orland Park Woman's club. This wonderful cooperation is appreciated, and will surely be a great help to the Brain Research Foundation.

Mrs. Kenneth Bressler reported that the nursery school conducted in July was very successful, with an enrollment of 37 children, aged three to six years. She predicted an increase of enrollment next summer, and suggested that a larger group could be handled by the teacher and her assistant, with the additional help of an adult, possibly one of the mothers. This not-for-profit nursery school is sponsored by the Junior Woman's club each summer, and provides children of this area the opportunity to obtain pre-school training.

Proceeds from the fashion show held on September 17, were approximately $200, which will be contributed toward the club's philanthropies. Mrs. Oscar Enk, president, complimented Mrs. William Grosskopf, who was chairman of the show, upon her competent management of the affair. Mrs. Donald Craemer was pleased to turn over $47 to the Oak Forest hospital, the proceeds from the articles made by the therapy shop, which were sold the evening of the fashion show.

The membership tea held Sept. 28, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry Rafacz, was most enjoyable and resulted in several new members joining the club. Those attending the October meeting were introduced by the president to the group.

New members are Mrs. Ernest Bengston, Mrs. Collier Loving, Mrs. Kenneth Paris, Mrs. George Devine, Mrs. William Horton, Mrs. Robert Miskee, Mrs. William Mohr, Mrs. Fritz Mulhausen, Mrs. James Sommerville, Mrs. Christian Sorensen and Mrs. Milton Westlund. Guests, and prospective members, at the October meeting were Mrs. Helen Gonzales and Mrs. Carol Nelson.

Mrs. Victor Ebeling asked for donations of cookies which will be sent to troops stationed in Alaska. These will be sent from the entire third District of the Junior Woman's club to reach the service men before Christmas. Cookies will be picked up Nov. 3.

Colored slides obtained from the Celanese Corporation by Mrs. James Plovak were viewed and gave many ideas for home decoration. A lovely dress length of celanese ma-

Breen, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Ray Barry, Mrs. Lawrence McBride, Mrs. Joseph Daluga.

Material was given by the company as a door prize, and Mrs. William Clark was the lucky winner.

A toy demonstration and sale will be the main feature of the November meeting, and Mrs. George Johnson, program chairman, said 10 percent of the gross sales will be given to the club treasury. The meeting will be held Nov. 11, eight o'clock, at McKenzie's Restaurant. This is a convenient location, and will accommodate a large group, so members are welcome to bring guests.

Mrs. Oscar Enk, president, said membership is still open in the Orland Park Junior Woman's Club, and anyone interested should obtain a membership application card from a member and present it at the November meeting.

Negotiate to Avoid Loss of 1000 Acres to Country Club Hills

(CNS) Out of court negotiations are underway in an attempt to prevent the proposed disconnection of almost 1,000 acres from the newly established city of Country Club Hills.

City officials and attorneys representing petitioners who filed County court bills to sever all identity with the community are discussing Country Club Hills subdivision ordinance as to street widths and lot sizes in an effort to meet the needs of all concerned.

Attorneys report that so far negotiations have been satisfactory to both sides.

A NEW RECREATIONAL AREA for Tinley Park will soon be available. Located at Riverside and Normandy drives, the area was untouched by contractors when the subdivision was built because of a peat bog and unsuitable for homes. The equipment of the Berg Construction Company, who have built many of the homes, is being used to level the ground. Grass seed will later be sown. Examining the progress made are pictured left to right, Selby Hirsch, recreation commissioner, Mayor Elmer H. Knudsen, G. B. Simmerman of Harvey, and W. R. MacDowell, both employed by Berg Construction.

factory to both sides. Meanwhile, County court hearings on the two separate disconnection petitions have been continued by Judge Otto Koerner.

Hearings on a petition seeking to disconnect an area of 890 acres were continued Tuesday to Nov. 6. This petition, involving the northerly top of Country Club Hills, was filed Oct. 6.

The area that wants "out" is bounded on the northwest by George Brennan highway, on the north by 167th street, on the south by 175th street, on the west by Cicero avenue, and on the east by Central Park avenue.

Property owners in this section were joined in their petition by those owning land in the "pocket" formed by Cicero, LaVergne, 175th street, and lots on the north side of 174th street.

seeking to disconnect 73 acres in the northwest corner of Cicero avenue and 187th street were continued to Oct. 27 before Judge Koerner.

The tract's owner, the Stymie Corporation, plans to erect 100 ranch type homes there, according to Attorney George Brogan. The firm prefers to be governed by county zoning regulations for unincorporated territory, Brogan said earlier.

Both petitions were filed under an Illinois statute that allows disconnection of land from a newly established municipality providing the proper legal proceedings are started within a year after incorporation. Country Club Hills was incorporated last July 15 by a vote of 334 to 193.

The two sections wanting to break all ties with the city are on the border of the city limits. Their disconnection would not leave any part of the community isolated from the remainder, according to the petitions.

It was added that each area, if disconnected, will not be a territory wholly bounded by one or more municipalities or wholly bounded by one or more municipalities and a river or lake.

Attorneys Louis Ancel and Jack M. Siegel, who joined with Brogan in drafting the Stymie company's petition, filed the petition for the larger tract.

Country Club Hills covers 3.8 square miles in Bremen and Rich townships.

Safety Council Calls Children Kitchen Hazard

The No. 1 hazard in the kitchen isn't a sharp knife or a hot burner.

"It's children," the National Safety Council says. "Children underfoot in a kitchen can cause all sorts of trouble."

"They have a habit of leaving marbles, crayons and toy trucks here and there on floors. Such objects on the kitchen floor are booby traps when mom tries to carry a pan of hot liquid, for example, across the room. She may fall, spilling the liquid on herself or someone else."

The kitchen, the Council says, is the third most dangerous room in the house.

How can you make your kitchen safer?

1. If possible, keep children out of the kitchen. If not, teach them to stay away from cords, appliances and stoves.
2. Turn in handles of utensils on stoves.
3. Keep knives in racks—and away from children.
4. Wipe up spilled liquids immediately from the floor.

Charge Trio With Violating White Slave Act

(CNS) A Chicago Heights sheet metal shop owner and a Beecher, Ill., couple were arrested by the FBI Thursday on a federal indictment returned in Baltimore, Md., charging interstate transportation of 14 and 17 year old girls to Calu-

Washington street, Chicago.

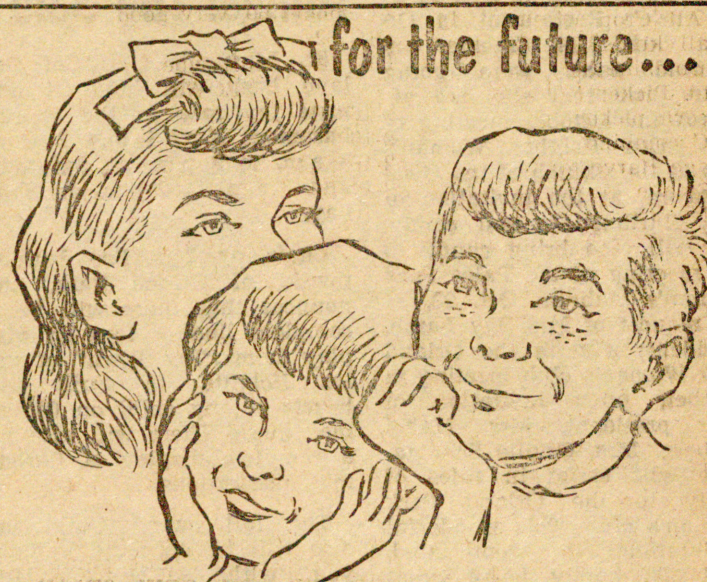

The third defendant, Mrs. Anne Sapperstein, 25 years old mother of three children, ages 6, 5 and 19 months, was allowed to sign her own bond by Judge Perry.

Austrew was formerly manager of the Derby club, 14 State street, Calumet City. He signed his address on the bond at 204 State street. The bondsman was Fred Luzi, 212 West 29th place, South Chicago Heights.

The indictment charges the two girls were transported on July 13 from Baltimore to Cal

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Most all indices point to considerable increases in general business even from this level. The steel industry has gone ahead steadily since July; more than a million new homes will be built this year; capital in vestment's have stopped declining and some commentators wonder if there is any real "excess capacity" of substantial amount; personal incomes have held up well even during the recession and are now evidencing this in purchases of a wide variety of goods; the TV, radio and appliance industry is doing well for the first time in many months. Even the clothing industry is ahead and going strong. Change from the chemise dress to fashions flattering to the women's figure, has brought with it improvement in sales of women's dresses plus improvement in sales of all accessories as shoes, gloves bags and stockings with the shorter skirts.

The rise in the prices of common stocks, has brought criticism from some bankers and the Federal Reserve board. It has been obvious that there has been a flight from "fixed dollar" obligations as bonds, etc. into stocks due to the fact that stocks are a greater protection of the "purchasing power" values of savings.

It should be remembered, however, that the investment standing of common stocks has been steadily rising in the eyes of the public. This is evidenced by the fact that mutual funds which permit small investors to invest in a "cross section" of the highest grade common stocks, amounted to asset value of less than $2 billion in 1945 and are now approaching $15 billion in asset value.

Mutual funds permit even the very small investor to acquire an interest in the highest grade common stocks and with wide diversification such as to give these funds standing as conservative investments. Many of these funds have plans for monthly or quarterly investment of as little as $50 per month or quarter. Many large funds such as endowments, etc., use these funds for investment rather than attempt setting up their own research and professional management staffs on a comparable basis. Some states permit banks to invest their funds in mutual funds as are some states, including Illinois, permitting partial investment of estate monies in these funds. This, of course, is recognition of the need to protect purchasing power as well as dollar value. It is not so many years ago that many brokers would not handle mutual funds as they felt them to be actually competitors. Some of these funds have been in business more than 25 years and their records for the period are enviable. Few individual investors have done so well.

Pension funds and profit sharing plans have very large funds for investment and are partial to common stocks due to protection of purchasing power. These funds with mutual funds buy stocks with longer range view and are little interested in short range fluctuations.

Professional investment managers are close students of all investment factors which include the likely political climate of the country after elections and effect on budgets. Municipal bond issues up for voter approval in coming elections, is more than $2 billion and most expected to pass. This is double last year's election volume. If the Democrats are as successful as expected, the alliance of labor groups and "liberals" is expected to bring much more spending for "social" objectives.

The two-cent daily newspaper used to be common in this country, but now it has gone with the wind. The last of these papers, the Hanover, (Pa.) Evening-Sun, has raised its price to five cents.

A recent survey finds that newspaper readers would like more scientific news, including medical news. Two-thirds of those polled said they would willingly give up some other kinds of news to make this expanded coverage possible.

56 National Tea Store Managers Win Good Citizenship Awards

H. V. McNamara, president, National Tea Co., today announced that fifty-six National Food Store managers have been presented the "Good Citizenship Award" of the National Association of Food Chains in competition with chain food store managers throughout the nation.

The awards were made as part of special citizenship activities for the work of these store managers in behalf of community improvement and participation in community affairs. The program under which the National Food Store managers were honored is an annual event sponsored by the National Association of Food Chains, Washington, D. C.

National's 56 store managers were among hundreds of food chain managers all over the country, who have been honored in this manner by the chain stores' national association. The award, a hand-lettered certificate, which will be proudly displayed in each of the winner's stores, proclaims these managers "Good Citizens" for 1953 and is signed by John A. Logan, president of the national association.

The "Good Citizenship Award" program was inaugurated in 1955 to reward supermarket managers, who make effective contributions to community progress. Winners are picked on the basis of their answers to a special questionnaire developed specifically for the program by the Teachers College of Columbia university, which studies the problem of citizenship under a grant from the Carnegie Foundation.

necessary to have worked 1½ years out of the last three years prior to your disability. Now, a disabled worker must be fully insured and have worked only five years out of the last 10 years just prior to becoming disabled. Whiteside said, a person still must be determined to be permanently and totally disabled to qualify.

There will no longer be any offset from the disabled worker's social security benefit because he is receiving disability payment from another Federal program or under the States Workman's Compensation Law. This will mean that effective with the payment made for August, the worker will receive his full disability insurance benefit regardless of any other disability payment. Another important change in the new law provides that a child who has been disabled

Social Security Law Changes Aid Disabled

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of articles on the changes made in the social security law. The changes affect particular groups of people who are frequently in need of much financial help.)

The work requirement for the disability freeze and the disability monthly benefit has been changed so as to make it easier to qualify, according to Harold Whiteside, manager of the Joliet office. It is especially helpful for those people who become disabled gradually over a period of years. Under the new law, it is not

Retired Medical Missionary Tells of Work in Burma Field

By VIRGINIA SASS
New Lenox 3133

Miss Anna B. Grey, retired medical missionary, spoke on her work in the mission field in Burma, at the October meeting of the Missionary society, Wednesday, Oct. 22 in the Marley church. Dr. Grey, who now resides in Lansing, Mich., used pictures to illustrate her talk and also displayed costumes of the Burmese. Mrs. Charles Sievert presented the devotion. The president, Mrs. Francis Nelson, presided during the business session and announced that the annual election of officers will be held at the November meeting. Refreshments were served in the dining room by the hostesses, Mrs. Alma Kohl, Mrs. Mary Marshall, Mrs. Ave Cleveland, Mrs. Alma Brown and Mrs. Alma Peterson.

Dr. Grey also spoke Wednesday night at the meeting of the Do Unto Others club.

Mission services were held during the past week in the Marley church. On Friday evening a banquet was served in the church with the Missions committee in charge, consisting of Mrs. Charles Sass, Mrs. Alma Kohl, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs. Garrett Cummins and Mrs. Marcia Taylor. The Chorus of Lockport Township high school met at the Russell Lauffer residence Thursday evening for a winter roast. About 200 were in attendance.

The Twelve Trumps will meet Wednesday night, Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. Glenn Smith.

The Freeman Fellowship and BYF will meet Sunday night, Nov. 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen. The Missions board will meet in the church Wednesday night, Nov. 5 at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Sass entertained at a family gathering in their home Wednesday evening in honor of the fourth birthday of their daughter Verda Jo. Refreshments were served from a pretty table centered with a birthday cake. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sass, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sass and children Larry and Debbie Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sass, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lauffer and Kenneth, and Frank Liszt, Sr.

New Provision in Income Tax Law is of Benefit to Farmers

Farmers with high incomes this year can reduce their income taxes by taking advantage of a new tax law, reports N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law.

The new law, passed by Congress this year to aid small business, will allow a farmer to take an additional 20 percent depreciation on tangible personal property in the year he buys it. The law applies to tools, equipment and mature breeding stock. But it does not include buildings.

To qualify the property must have a useful life of at least six years, Krausz points out. But it can be either new or used when a farmer buys it. The maximum allowance on a joint return is $20,000.

stration on flower arrangement there. Dinner was served to them at the Milk Parl.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cleveland were guests Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton at Elwood.

Since the law provides for an additional 20 percent depreciation, it also means that the farmer can take his regular depreciation. Here's how it works:

Suppose a farmer buys a tractor and combine for $10,000. The useful life is figured to be 10 years, so the additional depreciation allowance under the new law is $2,000 (20 percent of $10,000). If the farmer figures that the final salvage value is $1,000, then he would figure his regular depreciation on $7,000 ($10,000 less $2,000 additional depreciation less $1,000 salvage value). Divided over 10 years, this amount would be $700 a year.

If he buys the equipment after Oct. 1, he should take only one-fourth year's depreciation. In the example above this would be $175. However, if he has established the practice of taking half a year's depreciation for all purchases he makes after July 1, he may continue to do so. But no matter what time of the year he purchases the equipment, he would take the full 20 percent additional depreciation.

A farmer who has taken his regular depreciation by one of the step methods, like declining balance, can save an even greater amount of tax this year.

Krausz urges farmers who have had a good year not to delay buying personal property that can be depreciated. Depreciation offsets income and brings down income taxes, he concludes.

Ask $1.5 Million To Build 2-Mile Stretch of Sewer

(CNS) — An apparent low bid of $1,547,850 for construction of a two-mile intercepting sewer between Willow Springs and Hodgkins was opened Thursday by the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

The bid, lowest of seven, was submitted by the James McHugh Construction company.

Previously, the sanitary district rejected as "too high" a low bid of $1,771,450 submitted by the N. J. Boyle company. Sanitary district engineers have estimated the project to cost $1 million.

The sewer will run along the south side of the main channel of the Sanitary and Ship canal and intercept with the sewer project now under construction from 67th to 79th streets for Willow Springs and Justice.

A $944,490 contract was awarded earlier for this 2.4 mile line. The area to be

Issues Warrant For Rich Twp. Man In Zoning Case

(CNS) — Acting County Judge John Hollenbeck has issued a warrant for the arrest of Oliver Morgan, charged with allowing a Rich township residence to be used as a dwelling for two or more families, in violation of the county zoning ordinance.

The action was taken Thursday when Morgan failed to appear in County court to answer the charge by State's Attorney Adamowski.

The house at 3247 W. 194th st. is in an R-2 single family residential zone, Adamowski said.

served has a population of about 20,000.

The Willow Springs to Hodgkins sewer project will take about two years to complete, said Horace Ramey, chief engineer.

A future extension will serve the area south of LaGrange and Western Springs.

Question Residents on Views Of Bus Service to Homewood

By CHLOE WHITE
Sycamore 8-6620

A questionnaire was sent to all residents of Country Club Hills this week to determine if there would be sufficient support for bus service between the Hills and Homewood. The South Suburban Safety Lines, Inc., states that it would cost them $5.97 per hour to operate a bus. This would require a passenger load of approximately thirty fares an hour.

The probable route would be from Cicero ave. to Homewood via 183rd street. From Homewood there is adequate transportation to Park Forest, Chicago Heights, Harvey, Roseland, 63rd and Halsted and the Loop, according to the questionnaire.

The subject was instigated by the traffic and safety committee of the Civic Association and the questionnaire was circulated by the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts.

School District 160

Open house for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades was held last Thursday in the Central school 184th and Central ave.

The parents and guests were welcomed by Supt. Zenon Sykuta and given a brief resume of the planned activity for the evening.

The guests went, in rapid fashion, thru a typical day of a student. Each parent was instructed to go to his child's particular room. Each teacher then had a resume of the studies taught and the procedure. At the ringing of the bell the classes changed and the same procedure was followed until the guests had had an explanation of each subject as it is taught on each grade level.

Refreshments were served by the PTA room mothers and everyone had nothing but praise for a most enjoyable and informative evening.

The Safety Committee of the PTA wishes to remind all residents of the community to drive with extreme caution both tonight and tomorrow night. The roads will be full of children, some quite small, who will be filled with the joy and abandonment of Halloween and may become careless. A little extra caution may avert a tragedy.

Woman's Club

The second meeting of the newly formed Woman's club will be held at Central school, 184th and Central on Wednesday, Nov. 5, beginning promptly at 7:30 pm.

Alderman James Nally will give a short talk explaining current events as well as actions of the City Council since election and will be happy to answer any questions.

After the short business meeting it will be the pleasure of the club to present a resident of Country Club Hills as the main speaker of the evening, Mrs. Taeko King. Mrs. King, a well known expert in the intricate art of Japanese doll making, has appeared on Chicago's educational TV channel 11 and her work is at present on exhibit at the Homewood public library as the feature of the month.

All women of the community are invited to attend this meeting and are also urged to join and become an active member.

Plans are being made for the annual Christmas dinner which was a regular event of the Mothers club. Those members who were formerly members of the Mother's club will attend this dinner as a dividend of their former membership. Those new members are most cordially invited to attend on a "dutch treat" basis. If you care to attend call Delores Kuznicki, SY 9-5433.

Teen Club

Members of the Teen club, who have been doing such a wonderful job selling "trick or treat" candy for the Brain Research Foundation, wish to inform anyone who finds them selves with an abundance of trick or treaters and a shortage of goodies that fast, emergency FREE delivery will be made with a fresh supply. Call Jim Simmons, KE 2-3028 or Mrs. William Hastings, SY 8-5591.

Cub Scouts

Cub Scout Pack 286 has a new committee chairman, Donald Segin, formerly of Homewood, who has been active in Scout work for 16 years. He will replace Raymond Winters who is leaving the community.

The Boy Scout fund drive is in full swing and will continue until Nov. 1. Each unit has its own chairman and workers. Ray Bergmann is chairman of Unit 1, Owen Tibbles is chairman of Unit 11 and John Nicholson is chairman of Unit 111.

Brownies

Members of Brownie troops 259 and 266 will have their "fly up" ceremony Thursday, Oct. 30th at 3:45 pm. at the Homeowner's House. The "fly ups" will become Intermediate Troop 383 under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Adler. Co-leader will be Mrs. Robert Hollenbaugh.

Intermediate Troop 268, under the leadership of Mrs. James Lanigan, Mrs. John Ferris, co-leader, will receive their achievement awards as part of the ceremony.

Parents of the troop members are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

United Christian Church

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 2, the United Christian church will initiate dual worship services the first at 9:30 and the second at 11:00. Church schools for the present, will continue as usual.

The Junior Christian Fellowship is holding a Halloween party tonight at the Homeowner's House from 7:00 until 8:30. Because of this party, the choir will practice at 9:00 this week only.

A kick off meeting was held Wednesday evening, in the Homeowner's House at 9 o'clock for those who will be working in the intensive building fund program, Nov. 21-23.

"Christian Literature Week" is being observed by the church with the help of a large consignment order of books which will be available for sale next Sunday in church.

The long awaited "Fall Festival" will be held this Saturday, Nov. 1 at the Olympia Fields Country Club. Anyone in Country Club Hill who has not been contacted and is interested in tickets may call Mrs. Larry Simon at SY 8-7478.

Altho still a long way off, plans are being made for the bake sale to be held in the school hall on Sunday, Nov. 23. This is a project of the Women's Guild but is of especial interest to residents of the Hills as members living here will be in charge. Those who will donate goodies may call Mrs. Simon.

Want Your Same License Number? Better Hurry

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today reminded motorists who wish to retain their present license numbers for 1959 that the deadline for re-assignment of numbers is rapidly approaching.

Re-assignment applications must be in the Springfield office of the Secretary of State not later than Friday, October 31, Mr. Carpenter said.

He urged applicants to be sure that all questions on the application blank are completely and accurately answered, that the proper fee is included, a notary public seal affixed and the re-assignment request made in the "Remarks" section of the blank.

In particular, he pointed out the full first, middle and last names should be listed on the application. No initials should be used, unless they do not represent a name. "John Edward Jones" is the way the name should be shown, not "John E. Jones" or "J. E. Jones." Married women should list their own given names, as "Mary Jane Jones", not "Mrs. John Edward Jones."

Attention to those details will eliminate the possibility of having to return the application for additional information, which could result in loss of the desired number because of the time required for transmission thru the mail, Secretary Carpenter said.

Mailing of license plates will begin Nov. 1, a month earlier than in past years, but the plates are not to be displayed on cars until Dec. 1. Over the counter sale of plates in Springfield and Chicago will begin on Nov. 1 also, Mr. Carpenter said.

District 19 High School Council To Hear Noted Educator Nov. 10

"Curriculum Changes" — a pertinent topic today, will be Dr. James D. Logsdon's subject as he speaks Nov. 10 at Thornton Township High School, 151st and Broadway, Harvey, at an 8 p.m. meeting for the High School Council, District 19, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The ever-increasing publicity on schools, in most instances adverse publicity and criticism, needs to be balanced with information which is constructive. Dr. Logsdon expects to point out the need for changes and the necessity of understanding what the schools are teaching young people.

Dr. Logsdon, superintendent of Thornton Township High School, has been in the educational field since 1923. He has written and edited numerous publications, such as American School Board Journal and the Effective School Principal, released in 1954. He has been recognized by groups such as the Wisconsin Association of Secondary Schools, having served as their president; the national Association of Secondary School Principals and many others.

Mrs. Hubert Blackstone, president of Thornton Township High School P.T.A. and her executive committee will serve as hostesses for this meeting. Member high schools attending will be: Bremen Community, Evergreen Park Community, Oak Lawn Community, Carl Sandburg, and Bloom Township.

The school board is making preparations to have Kirby school on 171st street renovated. Due to the increased enrollment at the school it will probably be necessary to transfer two of the grades over to the little school, at least temporarily.

The Teen club met at the Rockrohr home last week unexpectedly as a result of David Kuech's accident. He was to have been their host.

Among the newcomers to the area are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rockrohr, Jr. who have purchased the Foxall residence on Oriole st.

Mrs. Donna Woods, Cub Scout leader, advises that den mothers are still needed. On Wednesday the cubs will meet at her home where they will see the making of ceramics from start to finish. Sounds very interesting and educational.

If any readers have a news bit that they would like to share, please contact the new writer of this column, Mrs. Dorothy Goble felt that she had too many responsibilities and asked to be relieved of the column of Southland news.

All registered voters are urged to get out and vote for their candidates. Tuesday, November 4 is election day. If any one is in need of transportation to the polling place, please call or contact Lester Rockrohr, KE 2-3388. The polling place for this area is at the Holstein school, 86th ave. and 175th st. The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Secretary of the Interior Seaton says: "In the years ahead more dams must be built, and they will be; more water must be impounded, and it will be; more acres must be put under irrigation; and they will be. And the greater the measure of non-federal cooperation, the more local and state and nonpublic organizations which continue to get into harness and help pull the load, the better and faster that job will be done. That's just plain sense! In recreation, the federal government cannot and should not bear the whole load. In the first place, it is a load too heavy for one branch of government. Second, wherever Uncle Sam's dollars go, his control follows...."

ALLEN WALDVOGEL (right) and G. R. ABRAHAM

Botany Student at Lincoln-Way

A Lincoln Way community high school student, Allen Waldvogel, has found a rare plant in Illinois and one that has never been on record as being collected in Will county.

According to the botany department of the University of Illinois and the Lincoln-Way biology instructor, George R.

Abraham, the plant, found just east of Frankfort on Sauk Trail is Monotropa uniflora, commonly called "Indian Pipe" or "Corpse Plant" of the Ericaceae or Heath family. Accordingly, it is parasitic, growing on roots or decomposing vegetable matter.

This was an unusual appearance and curious plant because of its all white color and waxy appearance, showing no ability to manufacture food. Yet, it has a rather fully developed flowering system with a fragrant odor and sticky stigma.

Due to its unusual variety a herbarium specimen has been made and placed in the University of Illinois herbarium.

Jeffrey Urban, with leader Ronald Kukul, played a group of selections from Germany, including Hile, Hilo, Lauterback, and Die Lorelei.

During the business meeting, the merit system of earning a letter and working for a pin were revised. The ways and means committee submitted several fund raising campaigns. Christmas cards and decorations are also available by order from band parents.

Plans are being made for a Fun Night to be held Nov. 15. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Christian, Mrs. Wilma Baldwin, and Mrs. Adelaide Ruhle.

Miss Linda Ruhle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ruhle, 829 S. Cedar rd., has enrolled in the Mt. Sinai hospital, School of Nursing, 2730 W. 15th Pl., Chicago. Miss Ruhle is a graduate of Lincoln-Way high school.

Mrs. Harlow Jensen entertained members of the Naomi circle of the Methodist church at a brunch in her home Wednesday morning. Mrs. William Schwab conducted the business meeting that followed. Plans were made for a 'Come As You Are Breakfast' to be held in October. Plans were also started for the annual bazaar and turkey dinner to be held in November. Mrs. Lester Koerner had charge of the program and the devotions. The November meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Robert Banderob.

Indian Pastor Guest Speaker at Reformed Church

Sunday, Nov. 2, has been designated as "Mission Emphasis Sunday" in the Reformed church. This event has become an annual source of blessing in the mission minded young church. Speaking at the morning service will be the Rev. Robert Chaat, pastor of the Comanche Reformed church of Lawton, Okla. The Rev. Chaat is the son of one of the first Christian families among the Comanche Indians.

He was the first American Indian to be ordained to the ministry in the Reformed church in America, after which he accepted the call to minister to his own people. He brings with him the rich experience of 25 years of service as missionary to the Indians, the true native Americans.

The public is invited to this service at 10 a.m., as well as to the Sunday School following, and the Evening worship at 7 p.m. The young church, located at 165th and Ridgeland, continues to grow under the leadership of her pastor, the Rev. Roderic Jackson. New families in the community seeking the fellowship and faith of the Christian Church are welcomed.

his brother's policy on keeping the U. S. out of war, halting inflation, and stabilizing the dollar. He urged a complete Republican landslide in Cook County and Illinois on Nov. 4.

Committeeman Don A. Moore spoke concerning metropolitan government that is being forced upon the suburban area by Mayor Richard Daley and the Chicago democratic machine. He stated that it was their goal to break down and take over the suburban area of Cook County.

"This is not a Republican vs. Democratic battle on Nov. 4, but a battle for the survival of local government, the suburbs vs. Chicago," Moore said. "I urge all citizens of the suburban area, Democrats, Independents and Republicans alike, to back up the Republican party in its Save Our Suburbs campaign. Mayor Daley and his Chicago machine must be stopped or the suburbs will be taken over by Chicago."

The Republican party stands for local government. We in the suburbs want no part of Chicago's plan for: 1. One consolidated metropolitan school district for all of the suburbs, thereby eliminating local grammar and high school districts; 2. One centralized County police department for all the suburbs, thereby eliminating local village police departments; 3. Metropolitan courts, thereby surrendering the right of the people to elect local judges in return for appointed magistrates from the City of Chicago.

First Illinois School Now Gone

By JOHN W. ALLEN

So. Ill. University

Sales of abandoned rural schools in southern Illinois are so common that they attract little attention. It was different, however, on a recent September afternoon when a group gathered on the grounds of Portland School near Burkessville Station in Monroe County. Another abandoned school, but one carrying an interesting story in the state's history was being sold.

The auctioneer called for the attention of those present, explained the purpose of the meeting and asked for bids which came readily. In a few minutes he said, "Are there other bids? Gentlemen, are you through? Then, sold to Mr. Sandefur." The Portland schoolhouse became private property.

It was the last rural district school in Monroe County. It also was the oldest school in continuous operation in Illinois — some say in all the Northwest Territory.

In this settlement, then and still known as New Design, John Seeley started the first English-speaking school in Illinois 175 years ago, during the summer of 1783. It began in a log cabin that some unnamed squatter had built, lived in for a time, and then vacated.

Pupils from several miles around came here, often over trails blazed through untouched forest that sometimes might be infested with prowling Indians. The school was a rude affair with benches made of split logs that had been smoothed with the broadaxe. Equipment was meager, almost to the point of absence.

Like other efforts at education, the New Design School was a subscription school. Parents paid a fee based on the number of pupils sent, and the length of time for which they were enrolled. Ages often ranged from five to 21. Texts were any books the student had available, from Bibles and ancient histories, to almanacs or the plays of Shakespeare. Teachers set the problems and pupils made their own arithmetic. It was a school of stern discipline; in fact, the life all lived was stern.

The first teacher, Mr. Seeley, was from all records and traditions respected and well liked, and was devoted to his work. It is reported that his successor, Francis Clark, was "intemperate", not so well liked and shortly moved on.

The third teacher was a man named Halfpenny, whose first name has not been learned. He taught in this and other Illinois schools as they were established. It is said that as late as 1800 a good half of all children who had attended school in Illinois had been Halfpenny's pupils. One historical writer called him "the Schoolmaster General" of early Illinois. He later left teaching and established a much needed and widely known gristmill on Fountain Creek west of Bellefontaine in 1795.

John Clark, a well educated Scotsman, followed Halfpenny. Clark was also a minister and is said to have been the first Protestant to preach in the Spanish territory west of the Mississippi. Clark was followed as teacher at New Design by John Doyle, who had been a soldier with George Rogers Clark in the Kaskascia Campaign and had returned to live in the settlement.

According to surveyor's records, this first school was in section 18 near the southeast corner. When the first cabin was abandoned a new house was built in the vicinity. Portland schoolhouse, just sold, was the fourth building in the district. Really, the first schools were community affairs rather than district schools, there being no law to provide schools for more than 40 years after this first one began.

Once there were thousands of one-room rural schools in Illinois. Consolidation has eliminated a large proportion of them. The ones remaining are fast disappearing.

A group of women in Monroe county now are busy working to have the site of this first school made into a park. Perhaps no better method could be found to memorialize the legendary one-room school than to place a suitable marker at the site where John Seeley taught the first school in Illinois.

Birds Build Their Nests by Ear

Conservation Editor
Cook Co. Forest Resv.

A bird is not taught how to build a nest. When it builds its first one, it has never even seen a nest built. So far as is known, each kind makes its own style of nest and does as good a job the first time as it does in later years. It is guided by instinct as if each had a sort of built-in blueprint. While the design for each species remains the same, similar materials may be substituted. For example, a house wren sometimes uses hairpins in place of slender twigs; and the crested flycatcher, which habitually builds a piece of castoff snake skin into its nest, may substitute a cellophane cigar wrapper.

A nest with eggs or young is a critical time in the life history of a bird. Losses are heavy. They fall victim to storms, accidents, or any of a long list of predatory birds, mammals and snakes. As protection against enemies nests on the ground, such as those of the meadow lark and the bobwhite quail, are hidden in the grass. Many, perhaps most, of our songbirds build nests above ground in brier patches, thorny thickets and tangles of vines. These are so well concealed that we seldom realize how many of these summer neighbors we have had until the leaves fall in autumn and expose them to view. The crow and most hawks make stick nests, high in trees. Many others rear their young in tree holes, some with and some without special materials.

Our Swallow Cliff forest preserve is named for a colony of bank swallows which formerly honey-combed a steep bank near U. S. 45 and Illinois Route 83. Their burrows, often several feet deep, end in nests of straw, grass and roots, lined with feathers. In recent years one of these holes has been occupied by a pair of kingfishers.

The chimney swift once a "hollow tree" swift has moved into man's buildings and nests deep down inside of unused chimneys. The nest is a shallow basket of twigs cemented together with gluey saliva. Because the swift cannot take off from the ground, dead twigs are snapped off and grabbed on the fly. After the saliva has dried, this framework is rigid and strong; but prolonged rain can soften it and spill the eggs or young. The nests of a cliff-dwelling relative in the Orient, made entirely of saliva, are collected and marketed, either dried or canned, for the famous bird's nest soup.

The barn swallow plasters cup-shaped mud nests, lined with chicken feathers, inside of barns or under bridges. Pellets of wet mud are pressed into place and reinforced with blades of dead grass. With the exception of eagles and certain hawks it is one of the few birds that uses the same nest more than one year. Under bridges we also find the phoebe's nest of mud, plant fibers and hair, camouflaged with an outer layer of moss.

The tiny hummingbird saddles a small branch with a cup of fine plant cotton the size of a walnut shell. Cobwebs are used to bind it fast and attach a covering of lichens. The wood pewee builds a similar nest, somewhat larger, also disguised with lichens to look like a knot on a limb.

Among our local birds, nests vary enormously—some simple, some complex. The night-hawk merely broods its eggs on barren fields, gravel beaches or flat gravel roofs in towns and cities. The irresponsible female cowbird drops an egg here and there in other birds' nests and takes no part in the care and rearing of her young. On the other extreme, the Baltimore oriole weaves an elaborate deep pouch of string, yarn, grasses, hair and fiber hung at the tip of a swaying branch on some large tree.

As a rule, the she-bird does all the planning and building.

ALPINE GIRLS

An outstanding Halloween party was given by the Alpine Girl's 4H club for its members Oct. 18 at 7:30 pm. in the Maue school. Invitations were sent by Marie Meiers.

The evening started out with Carla Mrosek telling each guest's fortune, before they went into the spook house, with Betty Stellwagen and Kay Maue in charge. As they entered, they shook hands with a rubber handed person, a spook presumably; then a ghost ran across their path; next they were splashed with water. The spook made each touch bones and blood, and as they turned the door knob to go out of the room, their hands were smeared with wet substance.

The recreation committee conducted a treasure hunt, with Joan Stellwagen, Janice Knieriem and Barbara Strassenburg as leaders of the teams. One clue was given to each team which were hard to recognize pictures. Janice's team came in first; Barbara's second and Joan's last. Each received a prize. Elaine Yunker won the game of pinning the tail on the donkey. Refreshments were served by Elaine Yunker and Sharon Lauffer.

Mary Jane Stellwagen, cute; Barbara Strassenburg, most original and Carla Mrosek, the sadist.

Costume prizes were awarded to Kaye Maue, funniest; Elaine Yunker and Sharon Lauffer, prettiest.

The PTA sponsored Fall Festival Oct. 15, was a great success. The galaxy of booths, games, etc. were a delight to all, especially the small fry, who never seemed to get their fill of the gay carnival prizes. When little feet wearied, an Abbot and Costello movie was the ideal relax awhile spot.

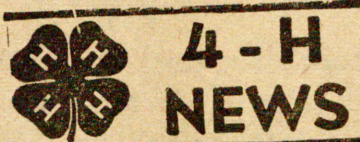

The cafeteria served dozens of hot dogs, hamburgers, pie, coffee and soft drinks. All in all the evening was especially gratifying to the many who had worked so hard toward the festival's success.

Sues To Collect Pay As Chief of Markham Police

(CNS) — Carr Relli, who hasn't been paid a penny in salary as police chief of Markham, will seek to collect $5,100 in back pay before Judge Harry M. Fisher in Superior court Oct. 23.

Judge Fisher set the date to hear Relli's motion for a summary judgment.

for salary of police chief is village board never ratified appropriated in the village budget and should be paid to Relli because he has done the work.

"No one has successfully contested Relli's claim to the job," Donahue added.

Relli was appointed chief of police May 1, 1957, by Village President Albert Cash. But the

However, the police department and Cash recognize only Relli as the police chief.

Rich Wins SW Football Championship

Rockets Blank Oak Lawn 33-0 To Cop 2nd Consecutive Title

Rich high school won the Southwest Suburban conference football championship for the second year hand-running last Saturday afternoon, on its home field, by blanking Oak Lawn 33 to 0.

This is the third grid title carried off by the Rockets in the six years the conference has existed. Rich won in 1954, 1957 and now with the 1958 championship packed away, the other schools in the league are hoping that this title business won't become habit forming.

The Rockets have one more game to play this year, a non-conference tilt Saturday night with Zion Benton. If Rich takes this one it will be a perfect season of eight starts and as many victories. It's win over Oak Lawn was its 14th consecutive triumph in a two-year period.

Rich did not fool around last Saturday. The Rockets, being the good mechanics they are, came to work on time, set down their bags of tools and went to work immediately. The game was less than two minutes old when the Rockets racked up their first touchdown. By half time they had a lead of 27 to 0.

When the teams returned for the second half the Rockets appeared to have let down while on the other hand the Spartans seemed to have a new lease on life. A lease was all they had, however, and by game end it was forfeited. They fought the Rockets all the way this second half and while threatening just couldn't reach the payoff circle.

Rich was able to make but one touchdown in the second half after failing to twice. Once the Spartans brought the victors to a halt on the eight yard line.

Chilton scored the Rockets first marker on a 30-yard sprint and Corky Hughes accounted for the second when he snagged a pass from Mays that caught the Spartans flat-footed and he scored again in the second quarter on the same combination. Chilton also scored in the second period on a 28-yard jaunt. Kra-

Sandburg Frosh-Sophs to Meet Bremen in Title Tilt Saturday

By RANDY JOHNSON

The Sandburg Eagles dusted off the Evergreen Parks 20 to 7 last weekend and as a result will be battling to finish in third place in the Southwest Suburban football standings when they meet Bremen this Saturday. The Sandburg frosh-sophs will be playing for the title.

The game is scheduled for 2 o'clock on the Bremen field. The Braves can't be jarred out of second place. To date they have won four conference games and lost one. The one defeat came at the hands of Rich, league champions for the second consecutive year.

If the Sandburgs can be the second team in the conference to beat Bremen this season they have third place clinched, because Reavis and Evergreen Park have each won two and lost three while the Eagles have lost but two while winning two and tying one game.

Lincoln-Way will play Evergreen Park there at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon and Oak Lawn and Reavis are to battle tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at Reavis.

If Lincoln-Way can break the ice and cop its first conference game of the year at Evergreen Park and Oak Lawn can take care of Reavis, the Eagles will be home free for third place.

The Sandburg frosh-sophs will finish the season with an unblemished record in league play if they can take Bremen Saturday. The Bremen frosh-soph, like the varsity has won four and lost one. Sandburg has won five as against no defeats.

If the Eagles are to take the undisputed championship they have to beat Bremen. A win for Bremen will give it a share in the title.

mer made the last score of the game on a 43-yard cruise.

Rich had too much speed and power for the Spartans. The Rockets rang up 18 first downs to Oak Lawn's seven and gained a total of 380 yards as compared to 123 for the Spartans. Rich gained all but 70 yards of its total by rushing.

Tinley Park Archery Club Shoot Draws Some 300 Participants

The first invitational modified broadhead shoot sponsored by the Tinley Park Archery club was a huge success. It was held on Sunday, Oct. 19. Officials of the club and about 300 bow and arrow enthusiasts never had a dull moment as they shot the 28 target course recently built by the club members. The 22-acre wooded field course is located on Route 30, half a mile west of Harlem ave.

Lunch and pop counters were open all day. Participating archers and clubs came from Rockford, Kankakee, and Springfield, in addition to neighboring suburbs. Everywhere was heard praise for the attractiveness and safety features on the range.

A modified broadhead shoot means shooting field arrows on animal targets. Thru the tremendous effort of our artist members, Frank Powers and Ed Balke, a large number of colored animal targets were produced. Certainly an artistic accomplishment. Targets were life size, reproductions of wildlife set at distances from 25 feet to 80 yards from the shooting stations, depending on the size of the target animal. The women in the club donated food — pies, cakes, cookies. Men and women pitched in to help at the counter. At the end of the day a wonderful array of trophies and medals were distributed to the winners and runners-up.

Scores for an earlier club shoot are as follows:

Tinley Church Cage Loop to Open Tuesday

There will be five teams in the Tinley Park Church basketball league this season; which will open Nov. 4.

This announcement was made following a meeting of the league's board of representatives at which several items of business were discussed, including new by-laws and new teams. Officers were elected.

The officers chosen are: Kenneth Webster, president; the Rev. Dallas Mucci, vice president; John Ficker, treasurer and James Hartman, secretary. Each team has two representatives on the board but only one officer may be elected from a church. Five churches will have teams in the league this season—the Methodists, defending champions; St. George, Nazarene, Zion Lutheran and Trinity Lutheran.

All games will be played on Tuesday nights at the Central school gym, with the first game at 7 o'clock and the nightcap at 8:30. The only ex-

Mat Crews at Lincoln-Way Will Start Practice Sessions Monday

Wrestlers at Lincoln-Way are scheduled to report Saturday afternoon (Nov. 1) at 2:30 o'clock. This first call is for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Then on Monday, Nov. 3, all of the mat talent in the school, including freshmen, are to turn out and practice will begin.

Ron Larsen, the varsity coach, expects to have seven lettermen back and 18 of last year's frosh-soph squad. To this list Larsen is adding two transfer students, Teddy Emmert, from Bremen and John Mazurek from Rich. Ken Zitter, L-W's No. 1 man in cross country and a senior, will be captain of the varsity mat team.

In charge of the frosh-soph contingent this year will be Coach Tom Flanagan.

The Lincoln-Way wrestlers will meet the Kankakee high school team in the first match of the 1958-59 season. This go is slated for Nov. 25, at Kankakee.

In scheduling schools this year Lincoln-Way will meet three new competitors, Joliet high, Morris and Downers Grove.

Last year's co-captains, Dave McGuire and Elwood Zitter, are both trying for places on college wrestling teams, Dave at Illinois Institute of Technology and Elwood at Southern Illinois university.

Knights Lose to Reavis 35-8; End Season at Ev. Park Tomorrow

By BILL SLUIS

The Lincoln-Way Knights ended their 1958 home season Friday with a 35 to 8 walloping at the hands of the Reavis Rams. Altho the Knights played their best, they were simply outclassed by a larger, more powerful Reavis squad. In the final seconds of the game the Knights added two points with their first safety of the season as Hogan Lau, aided by Bob Lichtenwalter and Jim Gast, tackled Jim Sakolosky, Reavis quarterback, in the end zone.

The Rams began their shellacking of the L-W crew in the first quarter, when they built up a 21-0 lead. Dennis McDonough scored the first TD, as he grabbed a hand-off and went four yards. The extra point was run by Jerry Frencl. The second touchdown, a plunge over center by Jim Sakolosky, was good for six yards, with Frencl once again getting the conversion.

The Rams got their final score of the quarter when Jerry Frencl grabbed a punt and galloped 82 yards. Then, in order to make the run complete, he ran his third extra point of the afternoon. The Knights also gave the spectators a thrill when Dan Fenn shot 71 yards up the middle, and went over the goal line but there was a penalty called against Lincoln-Way and the touchdown disallowed.

Both squads scored during the second quarter, with Dennis McDonough getting his second TD from three yards out and Dan Fenn going three yards for the Knights. The Rams converted when Joe Prendergast pulled down a pass from Sakolosky. The Knights missed their conversion, and the score was 28-6, Rams leading at the half.

The third quarter involved several good marches by both squads. The last Reavis touchdown of the game was registered in the quarter when McDonough, scoring his third TD went over from the four yard line. Bob Proskey made the conversion. The Knights also threatened several times, particularly toward the close of the quarter.

As the fourth quarter opened, the Knights had the ball on the Ram 6-yard line. The Reavis line held, however, and the Knights fell six inches short of the goal in four tries. After that, the Lincolns got off one last march, but the Rams stopped them on the 16-yard line. That was the last time the Knights had the ball. The game ended with the Knight safety as the referee signalled the end of the game.

The Knights will finish their 1958 season tomorrow afternoon at Evergreen Park. The game is slated for 2:30 o'clock. The Frosh-Soph will play at Evergreen Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Pick Cheerleaders At Orland Park Grade School

The Orland Park Junior high school had tryouts for cheerleaders for the coming basketball season last Friday. Twenty-one girls in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades were among the candidates for the honor of leading the cheering section for 1958-59 season.

All of the girls did an outstanding job but only six could be elected. The entire junior high student body voted for their choices. Final selections were Linda Buck, Jean Flonder, Joan Flonder and Teddiann Ludes, from the 8th grade; Trudy Young, 7th grade and Janet Taylor from the sixth grade.

Orland Youth Tops in Hoosier Grid Conference

Tad Morlock of Orland Park is just about the whole show for the Indiana State Sycamores this year. Ted, a junior, is leading the Indiana Collegiate conference in total yards gained and in passing. What makes this feat even more astonishing is that State hasn't won a game this year, and is last in the conference.

Altho Tad is a natural halfback, he has spent the last two years in the quarterback slot, and has never failed to come up with an outstanding job.

Head Coach Bill Jones has stated that Tad—"is the finest quarterback in the league!" No one doubts Jones, for the statistics show that Mr. Morlock is all that Jones says he is.

THERE'S A MESS IN SPRINGFIELD, TOO!

Do the citizens of Will and DuPage counties care enough to do something about it?

During the next two years the state legislature will probably appropriate about 3 billion dollars to support the functions of government in Illinois. This works out to about $1,300 per family—far too much to shrug off when we consider how it affects, directly, the lives of each of us.

With a state budget of these dimensions, we cannot allow ourselves the luxury of a senator in Springfield who is anything short of first-rate. We must have as our representative someone who has no commitment to the status quo or the vested interests; someone whose campaign has been financed entirely by the small contributions of his constituents; someone not beholden to the large contributors who must inevitably be paid off by political favors at one time or another.

Hayes Beall, the Democratic candidate for State Senator from our district, has demonstrated his administrative ability in governmental and non-governmental positions. His integrity and competence are unchallenged. But perhaps even more important, he represents a new, youthful point of view in the district, which is bound to make itself felt in Springfield when such crucial issues as our outmoded tax system, our hard-pressed schools, our inadequate mental institutions, and many other problems are up for consideration.

We strongly urge that you give Hayes Beall your support and your vote next November 4th.

Join the growing movement for a new state senator!

That Blue Ballot

A vote against the so-called judicial reform measure appearing on the blue ballot that will be submitted to the electorate next Tuesday will be a vote for protection of another of your rights that the big government boys hope to take away from you.

While the proposed amendment, as it stands, does not fix a new process for the selection of judges, it does open the door so that the legislature can enact a law under which judges would be appointed, instead of elected, and it is believed that such legislation is intended.

There are two main arguments advanced for the proposed amendment of the judicial article — to relieve congestion of the court dockets in Chicago and to do away with justices of the peace.

If Chicago's court dockets are crowded because there are not enough judges no constitutional amendment is necessary to remedy the situation. The legislature can amend the present law fixing the number of judges to give the relief sought. Why penalize the rest of the state.

On the other hand, if the dockets are cluttered because—as we suspect—lawyers are slow in moving a case to trial or find it to the best interests of their clients to delay hearing — we could have 10 times the number of judges now serving and the dockets would still be congested.

The proposed judicial amendment would replace justices of the peace and police magistrates, now elected, with appointees of circuit judges. These appointees would be known as magistrates and would be paid salaries out of taxes. There is no limit as to the number of magistrates that can be appointed and as far as one can see there is no limit as to their salaries.

Proponents of the blue ballot say it will be cheaper to pay the J.P.s and police magistrates out of tax money than to continue the present system under which they charge fees, which are set by law. They don't say why this would be cheaper or how it would be cheaper. They just say it will be cheaper and expect you to believe it. Just like they expect you to believe that the amendment will relieve congested dockets.

Incidentally the statement that the blue balloteers make to the effect that a justice of the peace or police magistrate must find a person charged with a misdemeanor guilty in order to assess him with costs and so insure the J. P. his fee is not true. He is paid by the county, according to state law, if the defendant is freed or if the defendant is without funds.

It should also be remembered that under the so-called judicial reform a case that can now be appealed from a J. P.'s court to the circuit or county court for payment of a $10 filing fee would have to be taken to the appellate court, and that friends, is an expensive process indeed. Too expensive for the average citizen and the poor man doesn't have a prayer.

Doing away with the J. P.s and police magistrates also means doing away with constables, and that poses another problem, particularly downstate where sheriffs' deputies are few and constables are utilized in serving various court papers. Without constables it means that more deputies will have to be appointed and that means a further drain on taxes.

The proposed amendment would also do away with county and probate judges. They would become associate judges, sort of poor relations of the circuit, appellate and supreme court judges. The justices of the supreme court, the blue ballot provides, would be the bosses, and their "secret police"—provision for such is set up in the amendment as administrator and staff—would make them supreme indeed.

The best way to dispose of the problems that would arise if the amendment is adopted is to vote NO on the blue ballot Tuesday.

local communities. The results may or may not be desirable to the local communities. Chicago's desire for such orderly planning is understandable.

The October, 1958 issue of Better Homes & Gardens carries a leading article titled, "Chaos In The Suburbs" on the dire need for professional planning of municipal growth. The article points out that 97 per cent of the population growth of this country, has been concentrated in metropolitan areas between 1950 and 1955, with the majority of the growth going to the suburbs and that this trend is continuing.

In organized society it is as necessary to have orderly growth and controls, the same as it is necessary for organizing police forces, fire departments, building codes and zoning regulations. These powers are given for the purpose of protecting the majority of the people from criminal or misguided actions which might harm the property or persons of its citizens.

This is an age in which an education is becoming ever more necessary for the children to fit into and compete in the world. This same education is costing greater and greater amounts which can only come thru taxes. More and more people are moving to the suburbs and they usually have more children than the older families whose families may be largely grown. Often times the older families resist school bond issues violently. Our neighbor, Park Forest, had a bond issue fight which was between the older and the newer families with more children. They had to be stopped from tearing down each other's placards. Application to any association of school authorities or planning commission agencies for this area, will provide many examples of towns which fought entry of industry to their sorrow as only with the aid of industry, can the taxes be met.

Planning is a science today and only professional engineers can do it. Very truly yours, Mokena Citizen Halloween or Hallow Even, is contradiction. As the eve of All Saints' day it goes back some 1,200 years on the Christian calendar but as a pagan celebration it goes back along the corridors of time to the Druids and perhaps further than that. All Saints' day is one of the fixed holy days of the year. It falls regularly on Nov. 1, so Halloween must come on Oct. 31.

It was not always that way, however. According to "Days and Customs of All Faiths," written by the Rev. Howard V. Harper, D.D., All Saints' day commemorates the holy ones of all ages and stations and was established by Pope Boniface IV in the seventh century.

Originally the day was set for May 1 but in 834 the date was shifted to Nov. 1. Some believe that the change probably was one of the Church's moves to Christianize a pagan revel because the night of Oct. 31 had been celebrated before Christianity.

In the days of the Druids Nov. 1 was a feast day dedicated to Saman, the Lord of death, according to scholars. It was on that day that Saman called up the spirits of the the dead.

It was only natural the people would believe that roll call for the spirits would begin when the day began, at midnight.

It also was natural that the living had no desire to fraternize with the departed, especially those who may have sped them on their way. Someone once said about ghosts that no one believes in them but everyone fears them. It is no wonder then that when Oct. 31 rolled around and graves were about to spawn their tenants that most people wanted company.

Gathered together and emboldened by their numbers and the possible aid of a flagon or so of the local liquor of the moment, the people made use of the occasion to hold revels. And it is still the occasion for parties and pranks.

Now that we have switched back from daylight saving time to standard time the semi-annual argument is on again—is it earlier or is it later?

And since the change in time is part of the seasonal picture perhaps it is fitting to ask—have we had or when will we have — Indian Summer?

There are many who will contend that we have had Indian Summer, pointing to the recent series of warm days as proof. It is true that we had some days when thermometers registered temperatures more suitable for July than October. There is an old adage that one swallow doesn't make a summer. It could also be said that a few warm days in the autumn do not make Indian Summer.

Most of us, I believe, think of floating webs and a little haze in the daytime and crisp cool nights, in connection with Indian Summer.

We have had some crisp, cool nights but as yet we haven't had sunny days with haze and webs floating by on lazy breezes.

Well, we don't care what it is, Indian Summer, Second Summer or Freakish Weather — we would like to see it stick around until spring and then get better.

MORE ON PLANNING

May I attempt a reply to the letter you published in the last edition with reference to the Planning Commission of Mokena and the need for such a commission?

The Chicago Tribune has carried some story or other about a Planning Commission and its work, for many weeks. Sometimes it is the Chicago Metropolitan Planning Commission, again the Northwest Planning Commission or the Calumet Port Planning Commission, etc. An attempt is going to be made to get laws thru the next legislature for a Chicago Regional Planning Commission which will set up plans and land-use-maps for the areas which Chicago feels to be within its normal trading area. Unless villages and towns set up their own in that area, it may well be that their districts will be planned by persons not responsible to the
